Arriving at rendezvous to find Glynis & Dave very comfortably set up & quite relaxed, after spending ages looking for the perfect spot.

As the other vans & tents started to set up, Gillian delegating to Amber to try to get her to be a happy camper & set up her own bed with Kimi's professional help.

Fires were lit & the aroma of braai meat filled the air. Fairly quiet evening by our standards.

Saturday Morning brought beach walks & fishing, with Dave reeling them in & Tim donating his sinkers to the sea. Emily hooking a tiddler.

Afternoon brought about a couple of games of The Mexican Train, with Ma Tim definitely entertaining us with her train being positioned at all sorts of angles. Preparation on the go as Gillian & her very enthusiastic helpers headed off to the tent.

Creative outfits worn as an evening of entertainment got underway, with pass the parcel, twister & down the rabbit hole & "drink me" Potions supplied. Tea cup drinking proved to be challenging, while Lindsay very cleverly brought a "Tea Mug". Snakes & Ladders, Music in the background, & for some a huge sugar rush with all the tea party treats. What another superb camping outing.

A slow pack up & a no rush kind of Sunday as we all headed home eventually.
Till next time
